

BELAYER RELEASE FORM

BELAYER'S NAME (print): _____

A belayer is the person who operates the rope system in the main climbing gym. The Belayer safely lowers a climber when their climb is completed and/or catches a climber in the event of an unexpected release from the climbing wall. Our staff will train the Belayer in the safe operation of our system and will take as much time as is necessary to ensure that the Belayer is competent in the performance of these tasks. After completion of the training, the Belayer will assume responsibility for the safety of any climber they belay.

The Belayer will forever release and waive Ultimate Kids, LLC dba The Ultimate Climbing Gym, its Owners, Employees, and Assignees from any and all claims, passive or active negligence, injuries or actions arising out of the use of the programs or facilities.

Climbing and/or Belaying are inherently dangerous activities that could result in injury or even death when done improperly or recklessly. Horseplay, running, and/or behavior deemed unacceptable will not be tolerated. There is no substitution for competent instruction, years of experience, and common sense. If you treat these activities with the respect they demand, rock climbing and belaying can be lifelong sports enjoyed by all.
